GRANDCHILDREN

A grandmother was telling her little granddaughter what her own childhood was like. "We used to swim outside in the river. I had a swing made from a tyre, it hung from a tree in our front yard. We rode our pony. We picked wild blackberries and ate them." The little girl was wide-eyed, taking this all in. At last she said, "I wish I'd gotten to know you sooner!"

Grandpa and granddaughter were sitting talking when she asked, "Did God make you, Grandpa?" "Yes, God made me," the grandfather answered. A few minutes later, the little girl asked him, "Did God make me too?" "Yes, He did," the grandpa answered. For a few minutes, the little girl seemed to be studying her grandpa, as well as her own reflection in a small mirror. Her grandfather wondered what was running through her mind. At last she spoke up. "You know, Grandpa," she said, "God's doing a lot better job lately.

One evening a grandmother was babysitting her two granddaughters Anne and Betty. Presently, 8 pm rolled around.

"Okay, time for bed," she informed the two children who were playing in the den.

"Why?" Anne asked (aged six). "It's so early!"

"Your father said your bedtime is eight," the grandmother said.

"You don't have to listen to him," Betty (aged four-and-a-half) replied.

"Why not?" the grandmother asked.

Betty answered, "Because you're his mother!"
